Art Unit: 1761

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on November 21, 2002 has been entered.

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 59-69 and 84-91 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Applicant does not teach "substantially all of said granules having a particle size from about 20 mesh to about 200 mesh," where Applicant specifically does not teach "substantially all" and what is encompassed by this phrase.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1761

Claims 59-91 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nofre et al in view of Kataoka et al.

Nofre et al disclose N-[N-(3,3-dimethylbutyl)-L- $\alpha$ -aspartyl]-L-phenylalanine 1-methyl ester as a dipeptide sweetening agent (see entire patent).

The claims differ as to the formation of granules.

Kataoka et al disclose the production of dipeptide granules using a compaction process as is claimed (see entire patent).

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to use the compaction process of Kataoka et al in that of Nofre et al because the compaction of dipeptide sweeteners is conventional in the art.

In the absence of unexpected results, it is not seen how the claimed invention differs from the teachings of the prior art. Applicant's claims are drawn to a combination of known components which produces expected results, see In re Kerkhoven 205 USPQ 1069 and In re Gershon 152 USPQ 602.

Kataoka et al disclose a compaction process as is claimed. Applicant does not exclude the screen/plate limitations of Kataoka et al.

Art Unit: 1761

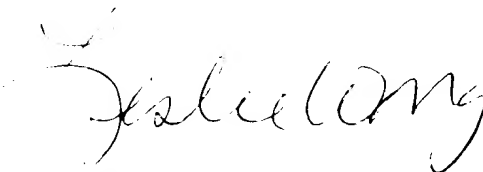

All of the claim limitations and arguments have been considered. None of them are seen as serving as basis for patentability.

No claim is allowed.
